Contact lenses (cosmetic lenses)

<https://www.ecoo.info/wp-content/uploads/2020/06/ECOO-Position-Paper-Contact-Lens-safety.pdf>

05 June 2020

Contact Lenses (CLs) are regulated medical devices in the European Union (EU)

Contact lens materials and solutions are safe. They are regulated by EU Directives and the Health Authority in each member state; generally they are also FDA approved (USA).

CLs are labelled prescription (Rx) only, so they are not available as “free-sale” or over-the-counter (OTC) devices: they must be dispensed by a qualified professional,ⁱ as stated in the EU Regulation on Medical Devices.ⁱⁱ They are generally classified in the EU market as Class IIa medical devices (≤30 days). Only eye care practitioners (e.g. opticians, optometrists, ophthalmologists) are licensed to dispense CLs in the EU (there are minor differences between regulations of different member States).

Selling contact lenses is equivalent to selling prescription drugs, which require consumers to purchase with a prescription form issued by a certified qualified person (such as an eye doctor).
